Milk Fairies' Visit to College Imparts Some Valuable Lessons To Us.

The health pageant given in assembly Tuesday morning, Dec. 14 which was presented by the department of Physical Education with assistance from the departments of Fine Arts, Dramatic Arts, and music, was one of the most enjoyable performances and one of the best health pageants we have ever seen. It vividly showed that hygiene is a practical thing. If parents and children realized the value of milk as food and knew more of the elements it contains and its value to the growth and health of children we would not be able to say that fifty per cent of the children in the United States are suffering from malnutrition.

It is no wonder that Johnnie was converted to the drinking of milk. Who could resist those sugar lumps as they sweetly danced to the tune of "Dixie" or how could you fail to believe in the value of those cunning golden fats that rolled out of the top of that cleanest and biggest of milk bottles? If the Queen of Milk Fairyland had not convinced you, the Vitamine twins—in their vivid red assuring you that they were "the special friends of the children" because they "make you grow" would have been the last word needed. And now is there anyone who does not believe in Fairies—at least Milk Fairies?

The following is the program:

"A Visit from the Fairies of Milk Fairyland."

Memorial to War Workers Is Erected On the Campus.

Our new flag staff has been erected in front of the main building. This flag staff, as well as the memorial tablet in the building in memory of the five college students who died while serving their country in the war, were bought with the money with which the college was reimbursed for the S. A. T. C.

The flag staff is about ten feet in the ground and seventy-five feet above. It is more than eight and one-half inches in diameter at the base of the staff.

The granite base on which the pole is erected cost $250.00 and the pole itself cost $300.00 besides the cost of express. The ball at the top of the flag staff is covered with gold-leaf.

On the granite base is the following inscription: "In honor of our students and faculty who served in the World War."

A more appropriate memorial could not have been erected for those who served in this great war, than the one that has been selected by the College.

Y. W. C. A. Presents Program Dec. 7 to Arouse Interest.

The Y. W. C. A. gave a very enjoyable program last Tuesday at the regular assembly hour, as a preliminary to their membership campaign.

Esther Foley, President, read the eighth Psalm for a Scripture lesson. The thots brought out were, what is man? He is God's greatest creation. Why, am I living? For the cultivation of a God like spirit.

Jessie Murphy spoke on, "How the Y. W. C. A. endeavors to carry on Christian work." The blue triangle is the insignia of the Y. W. C. A. It signifies the purpose of the Y. W. in the advancement of physical, intellectual and spiritual life.

The history of the Y. W. C. A. dates back to its beginning in London, in 1855. It became a national organization in 1894. The countries now having national organizations are: England, Scotland, Wales, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Hungary, Italy, Canada, India, and the United States.

The first national organization among students in the United States was in Illinois. Now there are among students 23,000 members of the Y. W. C. A.

The purpose of the organization in S. T. C. is to lead students to faith in God, to service in the church, better knowledge of the Bible, and to help students devote themselves to a Christian life.

The Y. W. C. A. has a voluntary membership. It leads to better comradeship among students for social purposes as well as for religious work.

The Y. W. expects from you the understanding of its work. It means to you a happier, healthier womanhood for the girls—a better town, a better world. "As citizens of the world do we dare not follow Him?"

Iva Lape read, "How the Swan Creek church was opened."

Words of compensation for the work of the Y. W. C. A. were given by Mr. Swinehart.

The music consisted of a piano duet—Bess curl and Lucile Sims; and two selections by the College Orchestra

Gymnasium is Busy Place.

Our gymnasium is in rather extended use. Our Basket Ball team uses it until 5:30 o'clock, the Maryville High School team from 6:00—7:00 o'clock on Tuesday evenings, and the Basket Ball Team of Conception, has made arrangements to come here once or twice each week for instruction in basket ball from Coach Rice.

S. T. C. Has Good Line-up For B. B.

The College Has Good Prospects for Championship Team This Season.

S. T. C. is going to have a winning basket ball team this year. We have a good stiff schedule but we have a whole lot stiffer aggregation of basket ball stars.

To begin with we have Charley Wells our star guard. When we say star guard we mean star guard. He was named for the all state last year, therefore he must be a star. On the side let it be said that he should be captain this year. We are behind him and are sure that he is the man for the place.

There is Kidney from New Hampton. To quote an official of last year's tournament, "Kidney is an all-round star. He is one of the classiest centers I ever saw."

Brown and York, also of New Hampton are first raters and stand among the best in caging the ball.

Red Turner and Jim Ulmer from Hopkins are indeed assets. Their style is good and their playing clean.

Kirby, captain of Maryville high team last year is also in the lime-light. He is an excellent guard and a good shot at the basket. He can also use his hands.

Steiger, from Stanberry is fast on his feet and a good shot.

Clyde and Harold Sawyers, M men are leaders also. Clyde at center and Torehy at guard show exceedingly good promise.

With such men as these as a mainstay and others such as Houchens, McPherron, Hays, Ferguson and Ramsey, who are also good, Coach Rice has prospects of not only a winning team but a championship team. Will we knock 'em dead? Well I hope to tell you.

Mr. Miller Speaks at Barnard.

A community Teachers Association was held at Barnard, Saturday, Dec. 4, with Mr. C. F. Ross, acting as chairman. Mr. Miller gave an address to the association on the Dignity of the Teaching Profession. Among the other features of the program was the discussion of the Play ground Problem, a Recitation Contest and a solo by Miss Jesse Fannon.

Jay Puekett has accepted a position in the Trenton High School to teach physics and general science.

Children Have Hot Lunch

This week the children of the training school began serving a hot dish with their lunch. This dish consists of either cocoa or soup. The children pay three cents a day just enough to cover the actual cost of the ingredients.

This project was tried out last year and proved a success in every way. It was adopted again this year because of the requests of both parents and children. It is indeed encouraging to see the children take such an interest in this work.

Leona Badger, the superintendent at Conception Junction, had to discontinue temporarily her work at the Conservatory.

Miss Margaret James left Friday, Dec. 3, for her home in Fort Valley, Georgia on account of the very serious illness of her mother.

Green and White Is Represented at Meeting of Editors.

Editors of the Northwest Missouri Press Association held their thirtieth annual session in the Hotel Robidoux at St. Joseph, December 3-4.

The Green and White Courier was represented by its editor-in-chief, Edith Holt, and by President Richardson.

Friday morning was given over to an informal program. C. L. Ficklin, president of the association responded to the address of welcome given by the mayor of St. Joseph. President Richardson discussed the work of the College and Miss Holt described the way the Courier is managed. She was chosen as temporary secretary of the association.

"Moral Character is the chief glory of the news paper, in my judgment" said Dr. C. M. Chilton in his talk given Friday afternoon. As he said the advertising matter is necessary if the paper is to be a going concern; the physical make up of the paper is important because it is that that first appeals to the eye and attracts the reader; the intellectuality of the paper, the brains that are back of it is important; and a great test of a paper is its news gathering power, so the news is important. But besides all these it must have a high moral principle which will make a man what he ought to be, society what it ought to be, and civilization what it ought to be.

Finally, truthfulness, honesty, sincerity, and sympathy make the all-round newspaper.

Fred Hull, of Maryville, led a discussion on "Keeping Up With Franklin," B. J. Bless, Jr., of Weston on "Building Farmer Advertising," Mrs. S. E. Lee of Savannah on "Advertising Rates," and Howard W. Mills of Mound City on "Clubbing Propositions."

Mrs. L. T. Moulton of King City read a paper on "Space Grafters," telling how attempts are made to use newspaper columns for all kinds of publicity. She also told how the newspapers help worthy public enterprises by giving free space, this movement having been developed during the recent war, when the public sentiment had to be molded largely thru publicity.

William Southern Jr., of Independence delivered a message from the Missouri (State) Press Association.

Delightfully reminiscent of country newspaper days of a quarter to a half century ago was the program at the dinner, Friday evening, given in honor of the members of the association, in the crystal room of the Hotel Robidoux, the visiting editors being guests of the Commerce Club.

A most pleasing feature of the evening's program was the concert by the Central High School Orchestra which concluded with "America," the diners rising and singing.

C. D. Morris of St. Joseph acted as toastmaster. A. P. Marlin and Ewing Herbert both of St. Joseph, spoke.

Lafayette Young, proprietor of the Des Moines Capital, was then introduced as the principal speaker. The life story of Mr. Young reads like a romance. An orphan at an early age, a printer's devil at eleven years, a "tramp" printer who traveled on freight trains, and now proprietor of one of the leading newspapers of the country and a former member of the United States senate—this in brief is the story.

Greatest Government on Earth.

"When I realize that an orphan boy with no advantages can rise to membership in the United States senate, I feel as though we have a country which has the greatest government on earth," said Mr. Young. He told many interesting incidents of his early career as a newspaperman in Iowa, mostly humorous, some almost tragic.

As a remedy for the present unrest Mr. Young advocated getting back on a pre-war basis. Put it there at once and then start again, was his suggestion. A school for all immigrants at Ellis Island, with six months study of the English language and principles of American government, and with a bathtub connected with every room, was one of his suggestions. That Armistice day should be made a legal holiday of the nation and every state, was another suggestion. It is the one holiday that the entire country could celebrate enthusiastically, he held. He advocated a bonus for the soldiers in the late war. He decried radicalism and anarchy, which he said, are advocated by some of the best-known writers in magazines today. He believed that the future of America lies in the hands of the American Legion and the women.

A number of local business men, bankers and professional men were at the dinner. The program was followed by a reception.

At the closing session Saturday forenoon officers were elected for 1921 as follows:

Fred M. Harrison, Gallatin, president.

P. G. Wightman, Bethany, first vice-president.

Edmond McWilliams, Plattsburg, second vice-president.

Ray VanMeter, Trenton, secretary.

J. P. Tucker, Parkville, treasurer (re-elected).

Virtually all of the morning session was devoted to discussions of "shop." It appears that print paper is becoming more plentiful, but the country newspaper men still have trouble getting competent help.

L. A. Hines, secretary of the Art-crafts Engraving Company, spoke on the subject of co-operation.

Adjournment was taken at noon.

Class Selects Good Books.

The Juvenile Literature class has placed a table in the library and has arranged on the table books that are suitable for Christmas gifts. The purpose of the class is to better acquaint us with the good editions of the classics suitable for gifts and the best illustrated books. This is a national movement growing out of the Better Book Week. The libraries and the large book stores thruout the country are calling attention to the better editions of the classics and the books that contain more good and better illustrations.

A few of the books that are on display are:

Old Nursery Rhymes—Illustrated by H. Willebeck Le Man—a series of four books.

The Boys' King Arthur—Illustrated by N. C. Wyeth.

Hikers Are Active.

Three groups of hikers set forth from Perrin Hall during the week end Dec. 3-5. Friday evening, after school Jessie Murphy, Harriet Van Buren, and Jeannie Blacklock hiked six and one fourth miles. Saturday afternoon a group of four hiked out into the country west of town four miles and back. These were Vera MacLeod, Iva Lape, Jeannie Blacklock and Jesse Murphy, Harriet Van Buren and Lola Moore.

There were other Husky Hikers on duty, too. Saturday, Mabel Cook, Mary Marshall and Ruth Bookman took a seventeen and one half mile hike. They started from Harmony and walked to Orrsburg and back to Harmony, then to Ravenwood and returned to Harmony. This is the longest hike yet undertaken.

Alice Peery, Margaret Remus and Miss MacLeod took a seven mile hike northeast from town Sunday Dec. 5.

Tea to be Given at Conservatory

The instructors at the Conservatory are planning a studio tea to be given in the near future. They have been working persistently to re-decorate their various rooms, and the waiting room, to make them more beautiful, more comfortable and more cosy.

The social gathering is to enable the students to get better acquainted with each other for they do not have the opportunity of seeing the entire group as the students at the College do.

Dr. Keller Speaks at Community Meeting.

On December 4, the Ladies Community Circle of the M. E. Church at Par-nell held a high school and corn exhibit.

Dr. Keller was judge of the exhibits and also gave a talk while there.

Rosendale Basket Ball Tournament

Rosendale High School held their second annual Basket Ball Tournament at the Opera House Thanksgiving afternoon and night with a large crowd in attendance. A silver loving cup was given to the winning team.

The teams competing were Maitland, New Point, Pickering and Rosendale. There was also a game between the Maitland and Rosendale girls.

The Rosendale girls have played nine games this season losing only one game by one point.

The third game was between Rosendale and Maitland and was a very one sided affair, Rosendale winning by a score of 122 to 31.

The Championship game was played at night between Rosendale and New Point, and was the best game of the tournament. It looked as if Rosendale would have it easy in the first half as the score was 31 to 12 but in the second half New Point came back with a rush and made 30 points to Rosendale's 20. The score ending 51 to 42 in Rosendale's favor.

The trophy was presented by Ed Adams, president of the Board of Education, to Rosendale's Captain.

C. F. Richards, better known as "Big Bill," formerly of S. T. C. refereed all the games.

The S. H. S. football team defeated Plattsburg in the semi-finals 13-17.

They closed the season Nov. 23 by playing the championship game with Trenton. Trenton won 27-0, giving her the undisputed championship of northwest Missouri and Smithville second place.

Smithville is to have a new gymnasium. The money was obtained by the students, it was planned by the students, the construction is to be supervised by the students and most of the work will be done by the students.

Carrollton

Carrollton high school closed the football season with 33 points for the opponents and 200 points for Carrollton. They suffered only one defeat during the entire season. Carrollton has a very interesting paper which has just been received by the Courier.

Central, St. Joseph.

The Central High School team defeated the Chillicothe eleven, 47-6, November 18, at League Park.

Maryville

Shane King of the M. H. S. has been selected for the Northwest Missouri tackle. Don Williams and Dean Campbell were selected for end and tackle on the second team. This speaks well for the Maryville team.

Skidmore

Because of a predicted shortage of funds during the next year a mass meeting of the citizens of Skidmore was called Dec. 7, to discuss the best methods of raising funds.

Nothing definite was accomplished but a committee of six members was appointed to secure information and visit other schools.

As soon as they can report, another meeting will be called for further discussion, and to make some definite propositions that will enable Skidmore to still maintain its present high standard of work.

Mr. Wilson went to Chicago during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Departmental Notes.

Science.

More elective courses in advanced Biology are offered this term than ever before. A fair number of students are enrolled in each of the courses: Bacteriology, Genetics and Economic Zoology.

A giant slug (Limax maximus) is on exhibit in the science laboratory.

The science classes, General Chemistry, elementary and College physics and Quantitative Analysis, are a continuation of the work of last quarter.

The enrollment in Chemistry as well as the other classes is practically the same as last quarter.

Manual Arts.

Eight courses are in operation in the Manual Arts department. Classes begin at 10 o'clock and are continuous until 5:20. Every lathe in wood turning is in action during that time. The lockers in the recitation room will give place to a board for the display of mechanical drawings. Lights have been installed in all the rooms for the students who work late.

The sugar lumps, fly wings, and milk bottle used in the assembly yesterday were constructed from actual measurements using a scale of 1 inch equal to 1 and one half feet. The chief difficulty was in keeping the Wells boys from appropriating it for advertising purposes.

Fred Kurtz in architectural drawing is making floor plans for the rooms in the Manual Arts department. The work is a problem in making more room and using all available space.

Ferd Masters is designing a drafting table for the use in the department. The object is to keep all of the material together.

Students in wood turning are constructing handles, steering rods and wheels for the Kiddie Kars.

Art

The class in costume design is proving very practical and interesting.

The problems which the students have been working on are: the artistic arrangement of tucks in a skirt; design for embroidery scallop and initial design for a pillow top; cross stitch design for a towel, and a braiding design which may be applied to a skirt.

Public Speaking.

The Intercollegiate Debates will be held between the State Teachers Colleges. As yet no definite dates have been scheduled. Those entered for the preliminaries are:

John Lawton, Harold Houchens, Leo Halasey, and Ora McPherron.

The college Debating Class meets at eight o'clock and is a preparatory class for the inter-collegiate debaters. Those enrolled for this class are as follows: John Phipps, Marshall Long, Jesse Boatman, Jeannie Blacklock, Kathryn Terry and Ira Fantz.

Commerce.

Mr. Griffin reports that some good work is being done in the commercial department. While there is a good number taking advantage of the new courses offered in this department, there should be more for it is the real "bread and butter" kind, the kind that is practical.

Music

The orchestra is to be commended for its fine spirit of cooperation and willingness to respond upon any occasion. Mr. Kutschinski feels that something definite has been accomplished by the members during the fall term and he anticipates much better work this term. The numbers have increased and he expects the quality of the work to increase also. They expect to make frequent public appearances this term.

Miss Wilfley held the first of a series of class rehearsals Saturday Dec. 11 at the Conservatory of Music. These rehearsals which will come every two weeks are just for the children taking lessons; but we hope that sometime soon they will give a public recital. Those taking part are: Noren White, Arthur Brewer Jr., Emma Ruth Bellows, George McMurphy Jr., Ruth Hughes, Lucile Snyder, Raymond Cohn, Emma Brash, Harriet Miller, La Vada Strader, Gertrude Curfman, Genevieve Miller, Robert Eversole, Bohm Townsend, Katie Halley Virginia Lamar, and Doris Snodgrass.

Education.

A good class has been organized in Ed. 161, Administration and Supervision. It is a class of senior work. This is the first time within the last two years that there has been a demand for this course. The class meets four times a week at 11 o'clock. It has been changed from a two hour to a two and one-half hour class.

The work of the class in Education IVb is well under way. Plans are being made for observation of work in the field.

Miss Arnett spent the week end December 11-12 in Kansas City, Mo. She was called there to meet her aunt from Texas.

Mrs. Eva Fickle, spent the week end Dec. 4-7, visiting relatives in Omaha, Neb.

The Stroller.

The Stroller has been busy constructing a perfect student. She has had to borrow from several but how do you think the model will look if patterned after the following?

Hair Torchy Sawyers
Nobel Brow Luther DeMoss
Eye brows Paul Pickens
Dreamy eyes Mike Lawton
Nose Earl Gorton
Mouth "Sister" Mapel
Mustache Coach Rice
Chin Marshall Long
Ears Elvin Burch
Neck Chas. Elmore
Body Carl Ferguson
Legs Eldon Steiger
Feet Edwin Jones
Hands Lee Meek
Beauty Edgar Hall
Akwardness Euel Ramsey
Intelligence Paul Miller
Finishing touches Dean Patridge

The Stroller had her curiosity aroused over that immense milk bottle in the east corridor so she asked Mr. Glenn about it. And this was his reply, "My baby has been drinking so much milk that it requires a larger bottle." Now the Stroller always knew that the Glenn baby is out of the ordinary but she had not thought of it in just that way before.

Have you noticed Paul Pickens' black eye and he even said that Mary Frances did not do it. Mary Carpenter and Miss Winn each had a bum eye too—the Stroller thinks that Mrs. Perrin had better watch over us more carefully.

The Stroller hopes that the Athletic Department will fix a date for "Sister" Mapel and Euel Ramsey to enter the boxing ring as they seem so anxious to MEET.

The program has been prepared in an effort to carry out the request of President Wilson, that every college fittingly observe the day.

Before the college lies an opportunity and a duty. The Pilgrims were the early seekers after freedom and light, and the right to think and learn according to their desires. The American college today perpetuates the vision and high ideals of the Pilgrim fathers.

Therefore the senior class urges the faculty, students and their friends to attend the commemorative exercises and join with them in giving the day special significance.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The program given at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday Dec. 8, was as follows:

Devotions led by Mabel Cook.
Violin Solo Maude Kibbe
Accompanied by Ethel Andrews
Reading "The Leper" by Willis, Mr. Miller.

Vocal Solo Mrs. Fred P. Robinson, accompanied by Mary Margaret Riehey.

Address Mr. Swinehart.

Mr. Swinehart, in his address said that personal efficiency is only possible with religion. It is the guide to right and wrong action. Religion makes us better physically because it teaches us temperance, and excess in any kind of activity is wrong. It makes us better intellectually and it develops us spiritually.

A short business meeting was held at which time plans were made for the membership campaign. It was also decided to send a telegram to Miss Margaret James, extending the sympathy and prayers of the Y. W. C. A. to her.

It was a very good meeting and was well attended. Mr. Miller closed the meeting with a prayer.

Classes at Carrollton Complete Work.

Miss Winn finished her two extension classes at Carrollton December 11. These classes are the first to complete their ten lessons. The courses studied were American History 12b, and English Composition 21. Practically all of these students will enroll for a correspondence course and some of them will attend college next summer. Following are the names of those in these classes: Mrs. Mary Earp, Molly Wiggins, Carrollton; Pauline Williams, Central High School Hardin; Lucy Ashbrook, Wake-onda; Mary Crockett, Carrollton; Bessie and Anna Bell Crockett of Norborne.

Eurekan.

U-Eurekan! U-Eurekan! Where were you last Thursday evening? Don't you know your place at the seventh hour on that day? Now wake up! You missed something Dec. 9, for Dr. Keller gave a talk to the society that every member should have heard.

Dr. Keller said that no student should wait to be begged to be an energetic society member. He should WANT to be one, not only from an altruistic point of view but from a selfish standpoint, because the society will help to develop the best that is in him. Every individual should put forth his best efforts for his own sake and for others. There are two voices calling to students. One is the voice of opportunity, the other, the voice of indifference, neglect or idle loafing.

In Dr. Keller's own College experiences he had to be put on the waiting list in order to become a member of a literary society. His training in this work meant as much to him as any of his college classes. Dr. Keller gave some good suggestions as a means to obtain interest and a better standard of literary work.

The other numbers on the program was a talk by Wave Hulet, and a piano solo by Bess Curl.

Eurekan Tea.

The Eurekan society gave a tea in the Ladies' Parlor on Friday, Dec. 10, at the 2:20 period. The room was decorated in the holiday colors, with barberries and evergreen. The following program was given:

Guardian of the College.

As we go about in the college building each day we see many who are here before eight o'clock comes arrive and who remain after we leave school in the afternoon. We see them quite regularly, within perhaps, ten Dec. 7-9 because of vaccination.

minutes after we enter the building and shortly before we leave it, and during the day as we go to and from our classes.

One of these men in particular do we see more often than the others, that one is Mr. Smith. We see him early in the morning; late in the afternoon, and if we return in the evening to any of our social good times, he is still here waiting patiently until we are gone, to lock up the building.

The light that may be seen about the building after dusk is not carried by robbers or ghosts but by him, who lives in the building caring for it day and night, closing the doors against undesirable visitors and perchance releasing those accidentally locked in.

We, of the College in 1920, make up only a small per cent of those who have seen Mr. Smith in and about the College. He has been with the College ever since it has occupied this building and even when it was in the old seminary building, that may be seen across the campus.

Mr. Smith became connected with this institution in September 1906, during the second session of school in the old seminary. There are perhaps only a half dozen individuals now connected with our College who have been here that long.

Jeannie Blacklock.

Spain Is Wanting American Students.

A Congress of educational representatives of all Latin American countries will be held in Madrid next May and it is hoped this will result in a steady flow of students from these republics to the mother country. There are more than 200,000 studying Spanish in the United States and due to this fact the Spanish board has organized a plan to take advantage of this interest in Spanish culture to develop closer relations with the United States.

The board has arranged for research professors from the United States to go to Spain at the expense of the board to train young men there in research methods. Spanish graduate students will be sent to American Universities upon government fellowships.

Courses in the Spanish language have already been organized which are given in Madrid during the summer for teachers from foreign countries, especially English speaking countries. Courses have been organized in other subjects for foreign students. A dormitory has been provided in Madrid for women students where they can live under the most suitable conditions.

The board has arranged to assist Spanish students in important cities of the United States to establish a Spanish House which will be the center of Spanish culture, where lectures, are, exhibits, musicales and other activities may be held.

Anna Mae Gillis was out of school because of vaccination.
